

1. Put a Smartie on each circle using your fingers or plastic tweezers. You can make a colour pattern with the Smarties too! Count them, and try to say their colours.
2. Read the lines below with your teacher/caregiver. Then eat the rest of the Smarties!

- Allah made all the people on Earth.
- Pretend that the Earth is like a box of Smarties candy.
- Pretend all the Smarties are different people.
- Different people can be different colours.
- Eat three of the Smarties. All the colours taste the same!
- Smarties are the same on the inside. People are the same on the inside of their bodies too.
- When I eat Smarties, I like if it tastes good. The taste is most important.
- The taste is more important than the colour.
- One colour does not taste better than another colour.
- In the same way, people are not more important than each other because of the colour of their skin or hair or eyes.
- People are important because of how kind they are. I want to be kind. I want people to be kind to me too! Allah loves when we are kind!
